Bailey Informs Council of Fraternity Hazing Ruling

By Carl Ingram

"They mean business," said Dr. Bailey, dean of students at Monday afternoon's session of Student Council, in reference to the new anti-hazing law affecting fraternities and campus organizations.

Bailey's comments were in conjunction with the recent meeting of college, university students and administrators dealing with the new anti-hazing legislation. Bailey was accompanied by Ken Steen, Inter Fraternity Council president.

Fifty at Meeting

Fifty northern California university and college representatives attended the San Francisco session, spearheaded by Attorney General Stanley Mosk and State Senator Edwin J. Regan.

The meeting stemmed from the recent injuries incurred by pledges while undergoing initiation rites of fraternities at the University of California, Berkeley, and at the University of Southern California. The newly passed measures prohibit hazing or degrading of new organization members on college campuses.

Big Penalties

Dean Bailey stated the ultimate penalty for hazing of new members of a campus group, is that the college in which the rites have taken place will be quickly and decisively cut off from public funds.

Concerning punishment of the hazers, Bailey said that all those taking part in the activity would be severely dealt with. He further added that those not actively engaged in the hazing procedures, but not making any effort to stop

Celebration Launched With Bonfire at 7:45

The Big Weekend of Homecoming activities will begin tonight after seven months planning.

The tenth annual celebration will feature a bonfire rally at 7:45 p.m. tonight, followed by a Variety Show in the SSC gymnasium.

Zoo's Who? Parade will launch the Saturday activities at 11:30 tomorrow morning. Proceeding through downtown Sacramento, the parade will conclude at Hughes Stadium.

There the Hornets will take on the San Francisco Gators for a conference clash at 2 p.m. Half-time activities will include marching bands, yells, songs, card tricks and awarding of the float trophy.

The Alumni Banquet is slated for 6:30 p.m. in the Hotel El Dorado, where the Ball will also be presented.

Climaxing the Homecoming festivities, the Ball will be held from 9 til 1 a.m. with Derek Heine's orchestra providing music for dancing. "Tickets will be sold for only $2 per couple at the door," reports Larry Felion, Blue Key chairman.

Philo Directs Variety Show

Ending the first night of homecoming activities will be the student variety show which will be held in the gymnasium at 9:15 p.m.; admission is free.

Highlighting the hour and a half show will be some numbers from the forthcoming drama production Guys and Dolls.

A variety of talent will be seen in the show; five people will exhibit their singing talent: Joaquina Calvo, Carolyn Drake, Jim Huff, Linda Falconer, Neil White and a trio consisting of Ed Keefer, Sandford Parr and Pat Fenwick.

Lorraine Howard will dance the hula and a Latin number. Sondra Leggio, Paula Sahagian and Donna Farber will do a modern dance.

Magic talent will be displayed by Dave Fiscus; others participating in the show will be a storyteller, Dorothy Landgrene, and a group of gymnasts.

Richard Philo will be master of ceremonies of the show for which he is co-chairman along with Linda Falconer.

Advisor to the show is Carl A. Thomas, assistant professor of speech.

Rally Program Features Queen

First of the Homecoming activities for the weekend, the bonfire rally, is slated for tonight at 7:45 p.m.

Tom Kenny will be on hand to MC the event, which will be held in the parking lot south of the Engineering building.

Among the features of the rally will be the bonfire, this time extended to about 45 feet in height. Before the fire is ignighted, a solemn ceremony placing a replica of the San Francisco State College Gators on it will take place. This will just be a sample of the fire the Hornets want to throw at the Gators on Saturday afternoon.

A run-down on the game with SFC will be given by coach John Baker. Also with him will be the captains for the Homecoming game.

It will participate in the parade downtown at 11:30 a.m., in the big pre-game show at 1:30 p.m. at Hughes Stadium and in the half-time show of the football game with San Francisco State College.

High Schools to Join SSC

Norman Lamb, music supervisor for Sacramento City schools, will be the guest conductor for the show.

This will be the first time in the history of SSC that such a pre-game show has been presented.

It will be well worth the time to come early and catch the pre-game ceremonies, as it will be something very special according to Hunt.

Zoo's Who Half-Time

Later in the afternoon at half-time celebrations the SSC marching band will depict who is who in the zoo featuring many favorite animal characters. This will be the biggest show of the season.

Led by Denny Green, drum major, Starleen Webster and Oteka Hall, majorettes, the band will play the following selections: Guys and Dolls, Who, If You Knew Susie, Flamingo, Oh, Johnny and Sweet Eloise.

The formations are kept secret until the show. Students are asked, however, if they can get any idea as to what the animal formations will be from knowing the names of the tunes.

Special Half-Time Treat

A special treat will be in store at this event. The North Highlands high school Bagpipe band will be SSC's honored guest performers. The director of the bagpipe band will be Herbert Oehler, music supervisor of Grant Union school district.

This group of talented students is said to make up one of the most colorful marching units in the area. They will be in full costume for the show.

WUS In Action . . .

Committee Arranges Annual Service Drive

World University Service committee made official several final drive-week programs Tuesday evening.

Following a lengthy discussion a motion was unanimously carried to give separate awards to the campus organization raising the most funds and to the organization submitting the highest total per capita according to membership.

The decision was designed to place both large and small groups on an even competitive basis. Had the award been restricted to the largest amount collected the smaller groups would have been virtually eliminated from the competition. Had it been based upon the average amount raised per member the more than 750 dormitory residents would have essentially been in a similar situation.

Announcement was made that Dr. Bhaskara Rao, WUS Pacific Coast regional director, will be on campus Thursday and Friday of drive-week to speak in various classes. He will also assist Wesley club with their Indian-style dinner Thursday evening, November 19.

After adjournment of the committee meeting members previewed a WUS film narrated by Charles Van Doren. One statement concerning the general objectives of WUS highlighted the 20-minute reel. "It is our responsibility to make sure that the lights which are already burning do not flicker out."

Steen Proposes IFC Amendment Governing Hazing

An amendment to the Inter-Fraternity Council constitution was proposed Tuesday at the regular meeting of the Inter-Fraternity Council.

The amendment, proposed by Ken Steen, IFC president, deals with the hazing of pledges by fraternities. If the amendment is passed when it comes up for a vote in two weeks, certain restrictions will be placed upon the fraternities in accordance with the new state law forbidding hazing of fraternity pledges.

In other action by the council Doug Decker was appointed chairman of the Northern California Inter-Fraternity Workshop to be held December 6 at Sacramento State College.

Decker will replace Don Brown who resigned the position at the last meeting.

Ball Bids Are $2 a Couple

Tomorrow night from 9 p.m.-1 a.m. the Hotel El Dorado will be the scene for Sacramento State College's annual Homecoming Ball.

Admission for ASSSC card holders is $2 a couple or $1.50 stag. General admission is $3 a couple and $2 stag. Tickets may be obtained at the door.

Dress for the dance will be semi-formal.

Sectionalism vs. Sexualism

Maybe we're finally getting down to the bare facts of history nowadays. This unusual phraseology cropped up in a recent class discussion on American history.

Garbled student: "Of course everyone knows that sexualism was the real cause of the Civil War."

Shades of Scarlet O'Hara.

4 Years Divided By Brains Equal $$$

Student comment on the campus building under construction: "How come it takes so much money to furnish the engineering building? I thought the biggest item for engineering majors was the slide rule."

Answer by Dr. John Egan of SSC's journalism department: "Today's engineers only use slide rules while estimating their incomes."

Dear Don, That's All I Wrote . . .

My favorite under rock investigator tells me this column has been under literary fire by one of the English professors on campus. No names mentioned, Doctor.

First, let me explain a few things about newspapers. There's always a middleman involved before a paper goes to press, namely the typographer who sets the column in lead type. He's subject to human error just like the rest of us . . . (re: the non-possessive "head's" in column dtd Oct 30) . . . his error, not mine. Also, about "boidies" and "thoidies" being passe . . . (re: same column dtd Oct 30) . . . they tell me English profs are becoming passe these days, too. Ask Charlie Van Doren of "I Kept A Secret" fame.

Hail, Columbia.

Cache On?

This one comes from The Pelican via the world's greatest disc-jockey, Don Sherwood: A Czechoslovakian midget was trying to escape from behind the Iron Curtain with the Red secret police in hot pursuit. Deep in the forest the midget came upon a hermit living in a small, thatch hut. When the hermit answered the fierce pounding on his door, the refugee politely asked, "Hello there, can you cache a small Czech?"

etc., etc.

If you think that's bad . . . what about the advice given to students attending the University of South Africa?

If you want to get ahead, join a band of headhunters!

Listening To My Readers

About this column: . . "Very clever writing . . . for an idiot." . . . "Almost intelligible." , , , "I stink it thinks, shay give me 'nother drink." . . . "I think your column is just wonderful." (NOTE: Thank you, darling, and I think you're a good wife ,too.) . . . "Shay, whersh sat drink?" . . . "When you die they'll have to bury you in an asbestos suit!"

See yuh there, pal.

SSC Coeds May Enter Contest for Camellia Queen

As winner of Sacramento's Camellia queen contest, some lucky coed will reign as queen of the 1960 Camellia Festival, March 4-13, receive an array of prizes, and be awarded an expense-paid trip to the Portland Rose Festival.

With poster publicity covering the campus, six lovely lasses this past week have vied for the title of Sacramento State College Homecoming Queen. Results of the election, being held today, will be disclosed tonight at the bonfire rally.

Barbara Baxter

Sponsored by Draper hall, Barbara is a sophomore elementary education major. Her activities include being Panhellenic representative for her off-campus sorority, Beta Phi Beta, and working part time for McCurry-Sidner, yet she still finds time for her favorite sports, swimming and skiing.

the action would also be penalized.

SSC In Good Shape

Dr. Bailey said, "We (the college) are in a favorable area" as many of the resolutions adopted by the legislature were already in effect at Sacramento State College several years prior to the formal action.

Council gave its reaffirmation to the pact with the University of California at Davis, prohibiting the "raiding" or stealing of each campus' symbols or trophies. Of specific reference is the "borrowing" of Davis' memorial bell. As the bell is on the state owned campus it is therefore state property. Any act of aggression will meet with court action.

The so-called "non-aggression" pact, prohibits the damaging of either school's campus and has been a mutual agreement for several years.

Rival Symbol Coming

Dean Bailey said that a suitable rivalry symbol is in the process of being secured, so that SSC and the Davis University will have a trophy-symbol similar to the Stanford - California axe. A mobile covered wagon will probably be the rival object.

The controversial preferential vs. plurality voting system was aired to a great extent, with Dr. Paul R. Murray, associate professor of government, explaining the much misinterpreted preferential system to attending members.

Wally Clark, ASSSC president, stated emphatically, "I feel it will be retrogression to go back to the plurality voting system." This said, more discussion followed with the end resulting in a tabling of the motion.

Holiday Report

Dick Kaye, chairman of the Hornet Holiday program, reported that letters asking for cooperation of campus groups for the week-long event had been mailed with several affirmative replies.

Kaye said that further programming cannot continue until the organizations take positive or negative action on participation on the spring event.

Homecoming History Told

The first few Homecomings bore little resemblance to this year's big affair.

Mostly, the events followed the pattern set by the first Homecoming in 1950, when the alumni met at a downtown club for cocktails, dinner and dancing. Advance publicity for these early get-togethers promised that there would be no long speeches and anticipated renewal of old friendships.

1952 Saw Cornerstone

In 1952 the Alumni group planned their homecoming around the laying of the cornerstone of the college on October 25. Following the cornerstone ceremony, the alumni had lunch in the new cafeteria then went to the Sacramento City College auditorium and saw The Curious Savage given by Sacramento State College students.

Homecoming had assumed enough importance by 1953 to warrant a proclomation by the mayor of Sacramento. The day was proclaimed Sacramento State College Homecoming Day.

This was the first year of classes on the new campus and the activities included open house, with each division having faculty members present; Coffee hour, variety show and a basketball game between the student Varsity squad and an alumni squad.

Students Participate in 1954

There was more student participation in the planning of the 1954 Homecoming, and the event became more comparable to today's both in organization and number of activities. SSC and the Cal Aggies grappled in the first Homecoming football game.

Other firsts were the bonfire rally on Friday night and the crowning of the first Homecoming Queen, Carolyn Robinson. Until that time the Casaba Queen had been borrowed for Homecoming.

In 1955 still another event was added when students and alumni formed a super car caravan to tour the downtown streets. The parade of decorated cars encountered a slight hitch in plans and had to reroute because of lack of adequate police escorts, but the idea caught on and all homecoming plans since then have included a parade.

Floats Replace Cars

The parades featured decorated cars until 1957 when larger floats were added.

Since 1954 Homecoming has followed the same general pattern, with much student participation and planning in contrast to the alumni run dinners of earlier years.

Rally Queen..

Setting the tempo for the rally will be the yell leaders and songsters, plus the entire Sacramento State College marching band.

The highlights of the event will be the crowning of this year's Momecoming Queen. The queen is to reign over the rest of the festivities of the weekend, including the variety show after the rally, the parade, game and dance on Saturday.

After the crowning of the queen the SSC band will lead the way to the gym for the Homecoming variety show.

SSC Observes Veterans' Day Next Wednesday

Sacramento State College will take a holiday Wednesday to observe Veterans Day.

Governor Edmund G. Brown has proclaimed the month of November at Veterans' month to honor the wartime vets. There are presently more than 2,300,000 wartime veterans living in California alone.

A survey conducted by the Sacramento State College Alumni Office reveals that of the 5,000 SSC graduates, two-thirds of the men, and three-fourths of the women are married.

Hornets Hope to Sting Gators Where it Hurts Most—Right in the Win Streak

Now that the Sacramento State College Hornets have tasted victory on the gridiron, San Francisco State College shouldn't find them a pushover tomorrow. Hughes Stadium will be the site of the Far Western Conference clash, with play slated for 2 p.m. The tilt highlights SSC's homecoming celebration.

HOPING FOR UPSET—These three Hornet gridders figure greatly in SSC's chances of overthrowing San Francisco State's undefeated Gators. Coming between quarterbacks Fred Scott (17) and Gary Musick (15) is fullback Jim Holt.

Will To Win

Both squads have powerful incentives to win. The Hornets will be fighting to stay out of the losing rut and to make a triumphant homecoming effort. The Gators will be out to retain undisputed possession of the FWC led and their undefeated status.

The locals posted their first win of the season last Saturday, defeating Pomona College 19-7. Before that they had lost ten straight games, including six this season.

Stars At Quarterback

Jim Sochor, all-FWC quarterback for two seasons, and on his way to the title again this year, directs the Gator artilery. He's got a powerful ground attack to back up his own fine passing talents. And when Sochor isn't in there, Manuel Perry, another former FWC all-star, takes over.

Other stellar performers on the squad include Bill Breslan, probably the finest kicker in the conference; Hank Marshall, all-conference at fullback last year; halfback Charlie Fuller, a standout at Vallejo JC; Jim Collopy and Ford Joy, a couple of good ends; and Bob Sexton, all-FWC guard.

Scott To Start

Hornet Head Coach, Johnny Baker, intends to start with essentially the same lineup as in last week's contest. Fred Scott gets the call at quarterback off his fine showing against Pomona.

LIONS NEED DAN

Good news for the followers of Dan Chamberlain, Sacramento State's first claim to professional football fame. Dan went down to the San Francisco 49'er-Detroit Lion game last Sunday and went in to say hello to all his friends with the Lions. (In case you've forgotten, Dan took a fling with the Lions during summer training this year as a result of his being drafted from the Hornets last fall.)

Anyway, Dan discloses that George Wilson, head coach of the Detroit club, which isn't faring too well at the moment, offered him a grand more than he was originally offered to try out again next summer with the Lions.

In fact, Wilson gave him a chance to come out right away, but Chamberlain, in the midst of classes here at SSC, declined until next season's training.

NO RECORD, BUT QUITE A FEAT

Both local city-wide newspapers picked up the cross-country story Saturday and reported that Bill Lane had set a new SSC record for the three mile course. Bill's time was an outstanding 15:26, but that isn't a school record.

Last year at the SSC invitational, the Hornets' top runner, Neil McGirr, made the trip in 15:20. That mark was overlooked, however, because Neil came in second behind Jack Marden of College of Pacific, who was running unattached.

Don't take anything away from Lane, though. His 15:26 was outstanding, and we understand he had to go around a gate which meet superintendents couldn't unlock before the event.

SHOULDN'T MISS IT

Attendance at SSC's first victory of the grid season was nothing short of abominable. The Hornets shouldn't have much trouble drawing a good crowd tomorrow, with all the alumni in town, but if you weren't planning to go, think twice about it. Despite the records of the two teams (SSC — 1 and 6; SFSC — 8 and 0), that game's going to be a good one. Mark our word.

Boxing Coach Delighted by Big Turnout

Hornet boxing coach Hank Elespuru had anticipated a good turnout for the meeting of boxing enthusiasts Monday, but when 17 aspiring pugilists made an appearance, even he was pleasantly surprised.

Boxing at Sacramento State College is probably the most popular of all campus sports, and rightly so. For SSC has a reputation for coming up with some of the finest collegiate ring material in the nation.

It is by no accident that SSC at present has one national champion and another boxer who finished second in his class last semester. The Hornets are defending their third place ranking in national classification, and they have a good chance to move up.

Flag Football Leaders Win

Chi Sigma Rho and Block S ran their win strings to eight and five games respectively Tuesday, each claiming victory on a rain-soaked turf.

The lettermen started off with an early touchdown and ran the Engineers into the mud, 33-0. Highlighting the game were plays by Larry Kelly, Dick Nunes, and Marv Weekly, a trio of Sacramento State College baseball letter winners.

The Block S defense, which hasn't allowed a score since its first game, completely stopped any threat which the Engineers posed.

Lane Stars

On the opposite field, Chi Sigma Rho scored once in each half to hand Xi Theta Chi their second straight loss, 14-0. Bill Lane accounted for both CSR touchdowns with interception returns of 60 and 45 yards. Dick Griffin passed to Pat Fenwick for the extra points.

Ferreirae Leads

Scoring for the first half of intramural flag football play was led by Bill Ferreirae, Omega Chi Delta, with 43 points. Team scoring went to Block S with 75 and OCD with 66. Top defensive teams were Chi Sigma Rho, allowing 14 points in four games, and Draper hall, yielding 19 in five games.

Kavich's Crew Shaping Up; Ready for Aggies, Chico

By Nick Nichols

Sacramento State College pacers face Cal Aggie and Chico State College sprinters in a tri-meet at Davis tomorrow.

The clash marks the Aggies' first official team encounter this season. Until now they have entered only individual runners in various meets, including the SSC invitational last month. "Evidently they don't rate too highly teamwise," noted Hornet Coach Larry Kavich.

CSC dropped two consecutive decisions to the Hornets during October. Ron Tibulski sports the greatest Wildcat threat, having placed seventh and eighth in the two meets against SSC.

Kavich's harriers have shown steady improvement since the beginning of the season, although they have claimed team victory only once. A comparison between their times recorded on the SSC three-mile course five weeks ago and those taken over the same path last Saturday revealed a reduction by four men.

Bill Lane knocked three minutes and 43 seconds from his original output. José Ramirez dropped 2:13, Art Williams, 1:44, and Dan Greenwald, 1:31. No time was recorded for Gary Noice at the first running. However, Saturday he shaved 56 seconds from his SSC Invitational effort.

SSC Pistoleers Bomb Lodi Police

Sacramento State College gunnery class defeated the Lodi Police pistol team here Saturday, 1979-1905.

The meet consisted of a slow, time and rapid fire relay with a .22 calibre division and a .38 calibre division. SSC outshot Lodi's finest in the .22 calibre division, 1041-936.

In the .38 calibre Lodi edged out the SSC pistoleers, 969-938. When both scores were added up Sacramento had racked up their first victory by a 74 point margin.

SSC individual scores were as follows:

	.22 Cal.	.38 Cal.
Glenn Metherd	281	258
Ed Preston	263	239

FWC Action Pits Nevada at HSC, 'Cats at Davis

Far Western Conference grid competition nears completion as all members participate in conference games tomorrow.

After a two week rest University of Nevada gridders travel to Humboldt State College for an 8 p.m. kickoff. Nevada is second in conference play with one FWC loss on their record. They fell to San Francisco State College earlier in the season.

The Lumberjacks of Humboldt are on a strong third place perch as a result of their victory over Chico State College last Saturday.

The Cal Aggies will be out to save face, at the expense of Chico, after being slaughtered by SFSC, 46-0, last weekend. The Mustangs will host the fourth place Chicoans at 3 p.m.

The Davis crew is tied for the cellar with Sacramento State College.

Alma Mater Fetes Roloff

Harvey Roloff, well - known Northwest athlete and coach, was honored Saturday night during Pacific University's homecoming in Forest Grove, Oregon. Roloff is Sacramento State College's football line coach and head track coach.

The Alumni Coaches Association cited Roloff for his loyalty, sacrifice, student guidance, public relations, and prowess in the field of athletics. The presentation, before a crowd of over 2000, was made by Dr. M. A. F. Ritchie, President of Pacific.

A native of Milton-Freewater, Oregon, Roloff graduated from Pacific in 1940. He was named all conference tackle while a member of the 1939 Northwest Conference champion Pacific team. From 1946 to 1956 he served Pacific as line coach and head basketball and track coach. Roloff received his Master's Degree at the University of Oregon.

A reunion luncheon honored members of the 1939 and 1949 Pacific football teams. The 1949 team, which Roloff coached, also won the conference title.

national champ Terry Smith and number two heavyweight Norm Tavalero. The coach stated further that two other SSC newcomers may have a chance to represent the U.S. They are 132 pound freshman George Walker, fresh out of the Marines, and Lynn Martell.

Montana Impressive

Elespuru is probably most hopeful for his freshman 119 pounder from Grant Union high school in Sacramento, Pros Montana. Says Elespuru of Montana, "He's got a very good chance of becoming a great boxer."

Other newcomers to the team include Warren Parker, Harold Suen, Bob Abel, Dick Burkhard, Jim Doyle, and Fred Hutchinson, the latter a transfer from Idaho State College. Smith's brother Dave is also eligible this year.

Parker probably will fight in the light heavyweight bracket. Suen, whose early work has pleased Elespuru a great deal, is a 132 pound sophomore just out of the service. Abel, from Medford, Oregon, would fight in either the 157 or 165 pound class.

Friend of Flood

Burkhard, 157 pound sophomore, came to SSC from Pueblo, Colorado, upon the request of Jim Flood, two-time national title holder for SSC who was graduated last semester. Doyle comes out of Elespuru's boxing classes, where he showed good potential.

Besides Smith and Tavalero, there are four other positive returnees from last year's outstanding squad. George Waggoner, Otis Grimble, Frank Reynoso, and Vern Grier lend sufficient experience to the local corps to give the Hornets a good shot at their first national team championship.

Waggoner Was Good Freshman

Waggoner as a freshman last year displayed terrific class in his bouts. Indicative of his talents are the results of his three matches against University of Nevada's 139 pound national champ, Joe Bliss. Waggoner scored one victory, lost a bout, and drew once with Bliss.

Elespuru considers this the year for three of these incumbents to hit their peaks.

Dan DiRe, another regular boxer last year, may return to the ring this semester. Joe Jiminez and Larry Lewis are expected back in January for the spring semester.

Still another comeback possibility is Bob Erickson, who a couple of years ago placed third in national rankings in the 139 pound division. He'll probably fight at 147 this year.

Women's Volleyball Squad Wins 4, Loses 1

Stockton College was the scene of an extra-mural league volleyball sportsday last Saturday.

Representing Sacramento State College in five volleyball games were Vonnie Rocha, Janet Bee, Cathy Downie, Janice Monice, Karen Meek, Judy Wilson, Lois Olmstead, Edna Avilla, and Judy Chandler, SSC extra-mural representative. Women's Recreation Association advisor, Miss Barbara Bartee, accompanied the girls.

Win Four Games

Sacramento State downed Modesto Junior College (team 1), 22-13, Sacramento City College, 27-23, Modesto JC (team 2), 21-15, and American River Junior College, 31-18. Chico State College defeated SSC, 20-9.

The next extra-mural sportsday will be held November 14 at ARJC, and the sport will be hockey. Anyone interested in the extra-mural league may contact Judy Wilson, WRA president for SSC.

Bowlers in Action

Eight teams participated in the first women's intramural bowling tournament. Those teams which have a win to their credit are the Punch and Judies (Barbara Bartley, Judy Wilson, and Judy Chandler); the High Rollers (Angie Benitez, Janet Bradley, and Lois Hoyt); the Pin-heads (Miss Bartee, Judy Carroll, and Sharolyn Painter); and the Strikers (Fran Toste, Audrey Hickman, and Lidian Fithian.

Women's basketball gets underway November 17, according to the manager. Signup sheets will be posted in the gym, November 9 through 13. Participate as teams or individuals. Manager Edna Avilla stressed that all women on the SSC campus can participate, so come out and join in the fun.

LANGUAGE MADE SIMPLE: NO. 1

In this day of swift international communications, like radio, television, and the raft, it becomes more and more important to be solidly grounded in foreign languages. Accordingly, I have asked the makers of Philip Morris whether I might not occasionally forego levity in this column and instead use it for a lesson in language.

"Of course, silly!" chuckled the makers of Philip Morris, tousling my yellow locks. Oh, grand men they are, just as full of natural goodness as the cigarettes they make, just as clean and fresh, just as friendly, just as agreeable to have along in all times and climes and places. "Of course, fond boy," laughed the makers and tossed me up and down in a blanket until, giddy with giggling, I bade them desist, and then we all had basins of farina and smoked Philip Morrises and sang songs until the campfire had turned to embers.

For our first lesson in language we will take up French. We will approach French in the modern manner—ignoring the tedious rules of grammar and concentrating instead on idiom. After all, when we go to France, what does it matter if we can parse and conjugate? What matters is that we should be able to speak idiomatic conversational French.

So, for the first exercise, translate the following real, true-to-life dialogue between two real, true-to-life Frenchmen named Claude (pronounced Clohd) and Pierre (also pronounced Clohd).

CLAUDE: Good morning, sir. Can you direct me to the nearest monk?

PIERRE: I have regret, but I am a stranger here myself.

CLAUDE: Is it that you come from the France?

PIERRE: You have right.

CLAUDE: I also. Come, let us mount the airplane and return ourselves to the France.

PIERRE: We must defend from smoking until the airplane elevates itself.

CLAUDE: Ah, now it has elevated itself. Will you have a Philippe Maurice?

PIERRE: Mercy.

CLAUDE: How many years has the small gray cat of the sick admiral?

PIERRE: She has four years, but the tall brown dog of the short blacksmith has only three.

CLAUDE: In the garden of my aunt it makes warm in the summer and cold in the winter.

PIERRE: What a coincidence! In the garden of my aunt too!

CLAUDE: Ah, we are landing. Regard how the airplane depresses itself.

PIERRE: What shall you do in the France?

CLAUDE: I shall make a promenade and see various sights of cultural significance, like the Louvre, the Tomb of Napoleon, and the Eiffel Tower . . . What shall you do?

PIERRE: I shall try to pick up the stewardess.

CLAUDE: Long live the France!

Alumni Members Return Home . . .

Sacramento State College celebrates its tenth annual Homecoming this weekend welcoming SSC alumni back to the campus stomping grounds.

The colorful pageantry of activities, broadened in scope over previous years, promises to be entertaining for students, alumni, faculty and staff members alike.

The now traditional Homecoming banquet was not launched without hindrance in 1950 since the flooding of the American River at the time of the event necessitated a four-week postponement. Transportation to Sacramento was halted.

It was also only a decade ago that The State Hornet reported the formation of the Alumni Association, making all graduates of the college eligible for membership.

A record-breaking fall enrollment of 2,603 full and part-time students was also reported by The State Hornet during that same period.

Today, for many who are returning for the first time in several years, the growth of the college will be astonishing.

Since the last Homecoming event we have seen the completion of a $1,000,000 library, expanded food service building, an expanded administration building, and the advent of three residence halls, initiating on-campus living. The engineering building now under construction will soon add yet another facet to the growing curriculum.

Another growth prestige factor is the initiation of an honors program this year offering an opportunity for superior students to develop their talents. This program is intended to lead to graduation with honors.

The total fall enrollment has surged to 6,500 and 53 members were added this year to an ever increasing faculty and staff.

Next year even more changes will be noted to returning alumni.

Homecoming Committee members have put more planning than ever before into making this event an unforgettable one.

Clark's Remarks

By Wally Clark
ASSSC President

Today marks the beginning of Sacramento State College's tenth annual Homecoming celebration.

It's a comparitively few short years since the days of the junior college campus. In 1954, SSC moved on to its present campus, and thus began the real home of our college. Many of the graduates of SSC reside in the Sacramento area, yet few of them probably realize the size to which our college has grown.

Homecoming gives them that opportunity. I sincerely hope that both old and new graduates of SSC are able to make it back for this weekend of activities. To the alumni we say welcome.

For the students of SSC, Homecoming offers the chance to stop and see just how wonderful their college is. If only you as students will take the opportunity to participate in the weekend of activities, you will find your college career enriched by the memories of your school showing itself off to the alumni, community and world in general.

Homecoming is the highlight of the fall semester activities you will be missed if you don't take part in the celebration, but more than that, you will be missing a happy experience.

So as a final word, I urge all students to turn out for the bonfire rally tonight at 8 p.m. Then be sure to see the parade tomorrow and the game. Then end the weekend by attending the Homecoming Ball Saturday evening.

Make SSC a better college participate in and attend the affairs of your college and the ASSSC.

From South Vietnam

Professor Advises Government

EDITOR'S NOTE:
The following letter was sent to Dr. Guy A. West, president of the college, from Dr. Edward C. Britton, associate professor of education, now in South Vietnam.
Britton is on a year sabbatical leave from SSC and has accepted a position with International Cooperative Administration as a teacher-Education consultant for the government of South Vietnam. He is there with his family.

Dear Friends:

By means of an old German hekto I will try to bring you more or less up-to-date on some of our doings and will try to persuade you to write and let us know how you are doing.

I have just had a week of living in the country. Last Monday I started out on a swing through schools and country in general. After a long the north-central provinces to visit a couple of teacher training institutions and to look at the bumpy ride in an amazingly rough jeep we arrived in Nhatrang along the South China Sea.

Interesting Stories

The first part of the ride was along flat delta land, lush and productive: the second along more mountainous regions with few people, but tremendous potential. In much of the country from Saigon to Nhatrang security is less than excellent and the interpreter had interesting stories to tell about the recent "incidents." Fortunately, apart from the fellows bombed in the MAAG, Americans have not been bothered for some time.

Refugee villages lined long sections of the road in the delta. They had come down from the north after the division of the country and remained in the same social groups. The priest was generally the leader and the Catholic church can claim credit for saving a large part of the million or so who escaped. There is a tremendous story of courage and tragedy here that I am going to find more about and will report later on.

Unbelievable Hardships

I have met a number of the escapees and they have been through almost unbelievable hardships. One interpreter became almost tearful as he met the boys and me a while back and as we talked he spoke of his boys killed by the communists before he escaped. For these people the threat of communism is no acedemic matter. More of this later. For now, let me say that these villages are well laid out, center around a huge church, show signs of great vitality, and in general are economically better off already than the communities of the south where generations of easy living have led to a much relaxed attitude toward life.

Student Protest Prompts Kerr to Clarify Directive

Protests from the students at the University of California at Berkeley, Los Angeles and Santa Barbara campuses and Sacramento State College prompted Clark Kerr, UC president, to clarify previously issued directives on UC student government, student organizations and use of university facilities.

From the text of the clarification that appeared in the Daily Californian Tuesday, Kerr stated that student government should not take positions on off-campus issues because they are not instituted to represent citizens' generally.

Restrictive of Freedom

"It would be restrictive of the freedom of these students to permit student government to speak with monolithic voices on their behalf on such issues," said Kerr.

Since ASUC is a compulsory organization, students as members support it "for limited purposes," according to Kerr.

Students Not Forced

"It should be clearly understood that the University will not use its power of compulsion to force students to belong to an organization devoted to political expression and operating in the area of opinion and belief, much as a few individuals on a few campuses now wish to accomplish this purpose by transforming our student government associations into instruments of political action.

"Political action should be through voluntary not compulsory associations. Nor will the University permit its name to be used to further political causes or candidates.

Subject to Limitations

"As agencies of the University they (student government) can only speak on issues within the scope of the authority delegated to them. Furthermore, they are subject to the general limitations which forbid the involvement of the University in political and sectarian activity."

Letters To The Editor

Editor, The State Hornet

In response to an invitation which I extended to Governor Brown to participate in the Homecoming Parade, I received the following communication which, I think, will be of interest to all readers.

President Guy A. West

Dear Mr. West:

Thank you very much for your cordial letter inviting me to serve as Grand Marshall for the Sacramento State College Homecoming Parade on Saturday, November 7.

As much as I would like to accept your very kind invitation, I deeply regret that I must decline it due to a conflicting engagement on that date.

Please express my sincere regrets at my inability to be present and extend my very best wishes to all assembled for a most successful and rousing Homecoming Parade.

Edmund G. Brown, Governor
Sincerely,

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

Angry Arab nations fearful of radioactive fallout from a French atomic explosion in the Sahara Desert called on other nations yesterday to support them in their drive to ban the scheduled French tests.

Ahmed Talbi Benhima, secretary general of the Moroccan Foreign Ministry, warned Wednesday that deadly strontium 90 from such a test would threaten 200,000 Negroes, Arabs and Israelites in Africa and that untold harm might be caused to oases and watersheds on which many depend for a living.
